

President Surveys Progress Made by His Administration

"We Are Working Our Way Out of a Welter of Waste,"
He Declares

More Efficiency

Looking to Future, Harding Predicts Passage of Important Pieces of Legislation

Washington, Sept. 6. — President Harding, in a letter reviewing the achievements to date of the Republican administration, particularly with reference to Congress, declared that "surrounding the national situation as a whole, it is plain that we are working our way out of a welter of waste and profligate spending at a most impressive rate."

The letter, made public today, was written by the President under date of August 29 to Senator McCormick of Illinois, and, it is understood, will be used in the campaign in New Mexico, where Senator Burton, appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Secretary of the Interior Fall, is a candidate for election. The letter, it also is understood, is considered by Republican leaders as a reply to attacks on the legislative record of the Republican congress by Chairman White at the Democratic National committee, and other leading Democrats.

"We have made much progress in retrenchment and greatly increased efficiency," the President asserts. "I cannot but account it a monumental accomplishment which has marked the work of the extraordinary session down to the time of its recess."

Looking to the future, Mr. Harding, in his letter, expressed the confident hope that "congress, after the recess and before the end of the extraordinary session, will adopt both the tariff and taxation measures, and that along with these it will pass the bill to permit funding the debt owed us by foreign governments."

"This, I hope," the President adds, "will shortly be followed by arrangements under which the debtors countries will begin paying interest on their obligations. Likewise, I am confident that the bill facilitating the funding of the debt of the railways to the United States will become law during the extraordinary session, thus insuring a large and immediate demand for employment of men now idle."

A "Patient" Congress

The President, in beginning his letter, expressed thanks to Senator McCormick for the Illinois senator's congratulations on the accomplishment of the administration as expressed in a letter addressed to the President under date of August 24.

The Republican congress preceding the advent of the present administration is credited by Mr. Harding with having "patiently and assiduously labored to reduce expenditures, with results which were surprising in the statement that the appropriations for the current fiscal year will aggregate four and a quarter billion dollars and that this is three quarters of a billion less than the expenditures for the present fiscal year."

The President, after reciting as "survivable incident to the war" the expenditure of three and a half billion dollars by the shipping board, between five and six billion dollars for aircraft, artillery and munition, and between one and a quarter and one and a half billion dollars for the railroad administration, adds:

"It is gratifying to be able to say therefore, that probably no other government in the world has during a similar period so drastically reduced expenditures as has the government of the United States during the past two years on the instance of the Republican congress. Moreover, am happy to assure you that the administrative departments are now in full sympathy with the program of vigorous action in retrenching economy through which, I believe, we will be able during the next year to cover back into the treasury so large a sum that the aggregate of taxation may be reduced to $3,000,000,000 a year."

The Burdens of War

"Half the present total expenditures of the government arise from wars of the past. Similar burdens are imposed upon the taxpayers of other countries, and a vast high universal protest against a possible repetition of such conflicts gives rise to the common hope that the conference in November may lighten the burdens of both armament and taxation, not only for this but for other lands."

"Almost without exception, the governments of other countries are faced with great deficits. . . . We must not overestimate our good fortune and the prudence of our congress, which permits us to balance revenue and expenditures at a time when deficits are the rule throughout the world. We shall be greatly aided in a policy of progressively reducing expenditures by the budget law. Republican in origin, design, enactment and execution, . . . I do not hesitate to say that in ordinary times it alone would have been considered a highly creditable chief product of a year's legislative program. In a time of such legislative activity as the present, it is only one among many measures of the first importance to be enacted. It was quickly followed by the enactment of the immigration law, calculated both to limit the inflow of population during a period of depression and to hasten the day when we may effect true Americanization of all new-comers to our shores."

"The series of measures looking to the amelioration of conditions in the great agricultural industries will in

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS BREAK OUT OF JAIL

Toledo, O., Sept. 6.—Federal officers and sheriff's deputies are searching the country for more than 50 miles around Toledo tonight for the three convicted postoffice robbers who escaped from the county jail yesterday.

The three men, Joe Urbaytis, Charles Schultz and George Lewis, alias Rodgers, beat two deputies with a jail cotbuckle attached to a string early yesterday afternoon and made their escape.

It developed today that the fugitives took four revolvers from Sheriff Taylor's desk before making their dash to freedom. A revolver holster and belt were found a block from the jail where trace of the men was lost.

Roy Stewart, county prosecuting attorney, today issued a call for a special session of the grand jury to investigate the escape of the prisoners.

WEST VIRGINIA'S COAL FIELDS QUIET

Bodies of Two Miners Reach Charleston—Trouble Also in Illinois

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—The bodies of two coal miners said to have been killed in last week's firing in the vicinity of the Boone-Logan county line were brought to Charleston today.

Members of a committee in charge of the bodies gave the names of the dead as Dewey Bryant, Lynchburg, Va., and Keener Williamson, Henricetta, Ky.

West Virginia's coal fields were reported quiet tonight at the offices of Governor Morgan. It was declared that no indications of renewed rioting had been received during the day.

Quiet has likewise returned to Mingo county, where firing across the Tug river in the Kentucky side took place last week, it was said.

War department orders were received at the headquarters of Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, directing the return of the 26th Infantry to its home station at Camp Dix. The 88th aero squadron was likewise ordered to return to Langley field, Va., leaving only two planes to act as messengers in West Virginia.

And in Illinois

Elmhurst, Ill., Sept. 6.—The Elmhurst county mine strike zone is quiet tonight, county officials reported after a day of patrol activity in which special deputy sheriffs failed to establish contact with any of the bands of armed miners said to be hiding in the nearby hills.

Forty miners armed with rifles are reported, according to States Attorney Clarence Forward, to be camping in a thickly wooded section three miles from Elmhurst. Firing was heard in that direction yesterday, but all was quiet today. The main body of strikers and their sympathizers, driven out of Elmhurst Saturday, was last seen Sunday night encamped seven miles north of Elmhurst.

There were about 200 men in the band, according to Mr. Forward. The strikers are armed having between 200 and 300 rifles for not more than 150 to 200 men, according to Mr. Forward.

Sheriff D. N. Cox tonight has 35 deputy sheriffs on duty in Elmhurst.

E. B. Little, captured Sunday by strikers, said he was twice stood up against a tree and threatened with death after his captors found a revolver in a holster under his arm. He finally was released.

NEARLY 3,000 AUTOS STOLEN IN GOTHAM IN EIGHT MONTHS

New York, Sept. 6.—A total of 2,966 automobiles were stolen in this city in the last eight months, according to figures compiled from the police records. This is $89 more than were stolen here in the corresponding period last year. In August alone 324 cars were made off with.

Severely affected by the constantly increasing number of thefts, insurance companies are planning to propose legislation that will curb the evil. It is intended to have laws passed that will punish dishonest owners as well as thieves.

APOPLEXY FELS HARRY JOHNSON, E-J MANAGER

Elmhurst, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Harry L. Johnson, brother of George F. Johnson of the Endicott-Johnson company, and general manager of the Endicott-Johnson Shoe interests in Johnson City, died suddenly of apoplexy at a camp in New Brunswick last night.

He is survived by a wife and four children.

Other times have constituted a striking legislative product of a year's session. These include the law for control of the packing industry, the act for the regulation of grain exchanges, and the law for the extension of the war credits to farmers through the war finance corporation, to enable them to carry their crops until the market will absorb them. The establishment of a veterans' bureau insures consummation of those reforms in caring for our disabled men which were inaugurated by executive order. We have established peace and are seeking to establish the generous production and profitable exchanges of food stuffs and commodities under the conditions of peace and the corollary assurance of good wages and general employment."

HUGHES REITERATES STAND ON MANDATES

New Note Emphasizes Necessity for Equality of Treatment of All Nations

Washington, Sept. 6. — The position of the American government on the question of mandates has been set forth more completely than heretofore in new notes to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, and through some of them, it is understood, has been submitted to the assembly of the League of Nations.

Although officials would not discuss the matter, it is understood the note was forwarded after inquiries had been received from some of the powers as to the American attitude toward the "A" and "B" mandates.

As early as May 12, 1920, the American government had taken a strong stand against the setting up of any special privileges in mandate territories, especially as involving the oil lands of Mesopotamia and the cable privileges on the Pacific island of Yap. In a note on February 21, last, Secretary Colby gave explicit warning that the approval of the United States was necessary to validate any mandate, a sanction which he contended had never been given in the case of Yap. In subsequent notes by Secretary Hughes, this position was strengthened, the proposition being laid down that notwithstanding her refusal to ratify the Versailles treaty, the United States as a victor in the war could not be deprived of a full and equal voice in the disposition of all former German-owned territories.

In his most recent note, Secretary Hughes is understood to declare for equality of treatment of all nations and persons in trade and residence and concessions in all mandate territories, not restricting the claim to any particular class such as Mesopotamia or Yap, but applying it to the three classes.

In making its claim for the open door in all mandate territories, the American government is understood to have in mind the providing of sufficient safeguards for American missionaries, as well as American business men.

HYDROPLANE SETS NEW SPEED MARK

Miss America II Captures Lake George Trophy With Speed of 80.5 Miles

Detroit, Sept. 6.—The fastest speed ever made by a water craft marked the close here today of the 1921 gold cup-Harmsworth trophy regatta. Miss America II of Detroit setting a new world's mark at 80.567 miles an hour in capturing the Lake George trophy for the one-mile speed boat championship of the North American.

Today's victory for Miss America II gave Garfield A. Wood's hydroplane a clean sweep in the regatta that began August 27.

The old record was 76.655 miles an hour, made by Miss America I here last year. The new record was the average of six one mile dashes, three downstream and three upstream.

In one of the dashes downstream, Miss America II attained a speed of 81.466 miles an hour, covering the mile in 14.13 seconds. Miss America I was the only boat to run against time today.

In the first section of the mile trials August 31 Miss America I averaged 74.870 miles an hour. Miss Chicago of the Chicago yacht club made 70.951 miles an hour and the sea sled Orlo III, owned by George Leary jr., of New York, averaged 55.446.

CIDER SAVES TOWN.

(By The Associated Press.)

LeClent, France, Sept. 6.—Hogs-heads and tanks of cider pumped by firemen on burning buildings today saved the village of Meudon-Remains from destruction. An effort will be made to precede the game with a five-inning contest between the present Giants and the Giants who played with Mathewson on New York's world championship team of 1905. Donlin, Dahlen, Egan, Gilbert, Egan, Egan, Egan and other players of 15 years ago will be asked to play.

The New York club will give its entire share of the receipts to Mathewson, who is ill of tuberculosis at Saranac Lake.

DAVIS CUP REMAINS IN UNITED STATES

American Doubles Team Clinches Title Saturday; Star Representative at Matches

Forest Hill, Sept. 6. — The Davis cup, emblematic of the world's tennis championship, remains in America for another year.

R. Norris Williams of Boston and Watson W. Washburn of New York, the cup defending doubles team, clinched the championship for the United States by defeating Ichiji Kumagae and Zenzo Shimidzu of Japan, three out of four by scores of 6-2, 7-5, 4-6, 7-5, on the courts of the West Side Tennis club Saturday afternoon.

The winning of the doubles match in conjunction with William M. Johnston's victory over Kumagae and Watson W. Washburn's win from Shimidzu on Friday, gave the American players the necessary three out of five victories.

Ben Mahaffy, telegraph editor of The Star, attended the Davis cup matches on Friday and Saturday as a representative of his paper. The match that impressed him most, and the one that was easily the feature of the championship games, took place on Friday between William T. Tilden, world's champion, and Zenzo Shimidzu of Japan.

It was in this set that Tilden fully displayed his mastery of the game. After losing the first two sets to the Japanese and nearly sacrificing the match, he staged a wonderful comeback, over the net like a bullet and leaving his opponent practically helpless. He took the third set out of the fire, making the score two sets to one against him. "Big Bill" continued his savage pace during the rest of the match and after a wonderful exhibition of tennis, won the match, three sets to two. Tilden's greatest weapon was his swift service, the ball coming over the net like a bullet and leaving his opponent practically helpless. The little Jap put up a game fight, however, and covered his court in a remarkable manner. He plainly was tired out, and secured only one game of the last set.

Mr. Mahaffy returned to Oneonta Sunday after spending an enjoyable two weeks' vacation, the first ten days of which were spent at Silver Lake, Lake George, and the remainder in New York, where in addition to the Davis Cup play, he was a spectator at the New York-Washington double header on Thursday.

ARMY NOW IN NEED OF MORE THAN 1,000 MEN

Washington, Sept. 6.—Recruiting for the army, which was ordered discontinued last month, was resumed today under new regulations issued by the war department, designed to keep the enlisted strength at 150,000 men, the number authorized by congress.

Secretary Weeks said no recruiting stations would be opened and no recruiting detachments would be used in cities to canvass for recruits.

The enlisted strength of the army at present was said to be less than 149,000 men, it being decreased from 220,000 since last March by resignations approved and discharges made as enlistments expired.

MEN OF FRANCE AND AMERICA JOIN HANDS

Celebrate Joint Anniversary of Lafayette's Birth and Marne Battle

Mr. Vernon, Va., Sept. 6.—Memories that have woven a fabric of friendship around French and American heart strings were stirred anew today when men of the two nations gathered at the tomb of George Washington to celebrate the joint anniversary of the birth of Lafayette and the beginning of the first battle of the Marne. The ceremonies were under the auspices of the Lafayette Day National committee, with James M. Beck, solicitor general of the United States, presiding. Messages of friendship were read from Presidents Harding and Millerand, Marshal Foch, General Pershing, Premier Briand and Secretary Hughes and Denby.

The presence of the marine band and of French, American, British and other army officers in uniform, lent an official air to the celebration.

At the tomb, a wreath was placed in the vault with simple ceremonies and the party trooped up to the wide lawn to tell again of the Frenchman born 181 years ago today with the call of human liberty stirring with his first pulse and of the great day seven years ago when Joffre let loose the valor of France and England to stem the tide of German advance and draw a new frontier of liberty at the Marne.

No more fitting place for celebration of such an intertwining of great memories could be found, Mr. Beck declared in his address, than Mr. Vernon, where still hovered the spirit of Washington. In the days of the disarmament conference to come, he added, there was no limit to what could be accomplished toward world peace if the spirit that moved the great American was with the conferees in Washington.

Greetings from American officials were read by Maurice Leon of New York, while those from France were presented by Prince de Beaulieu, French chargé. The main address was delivered by John H. Finley of New York.

BODIES OF ZR-2 VICTIMS ON WAY TO UNITED STATES

Hull, England, Sept. 6.—(By The Associated Press.)—The bodies of the American victims of the ZR-2 disaster were enroute for Plymouth today on their way to the United States for burial.

A memorial service conducted by the chaplain of the Howden air base was held this afternoon in the grounds of the royal infirmary where theaskets were covered by the Stars and Stripes and surrounded by beautiful leaves and flowers. They had been lying in a specially arranged chapel pending their removal.

It was stated today that during the voyage to America on the British cruiser Dauntless the body of Lieutenant Commander Emory Coll of Marlinton, O., will be buried at sea in accordance with his expressed wish.

HAYNES TO PROBE "DRY" CONDITIONS IN NEW YORK

Washington, Sept. 6.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes left today for New York for a personal investigation of conditions in the prohibition office in that city. He was understood to be anxious to gain a first-hand knowledge of the New York situation, which he has described as "very bad," and to prepare the way for the closest cooperation between the headquarters office here and state enforcement units.

According to Mr. Haynes, the main problem in the enforcement of the dry law in New York is smuggling. With the extra detail of enforcement experts assigned from Washington, he added, it was hoped the volume of rum running could be measurably lessened.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Harry H. Billings, fourth assistant postmaster general, who came from Washington today to address the annual convention of the United States Association of Postoffice Clerks, told his hearers that his last official act before leaving Washington was to sign an order granting postoffice employees a full day off on holidays.

Put Away Hypocrisy, Says De Valera in Bitter Statement

14 FACE TRIAL FOR MURDER OF DETECTIVES IN MATEWAN

Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 6. — The case against 14 men indicted on charges growing out of the death of W. J. Ferguson, one of seven private detectives killed in Matewan in May, 1920, during a clash with townsmen, today was put over until tomorrow on account of the failure of some of the attorneys to arrive here.

Forty-six of 50 veniremen summoned from Pocahontas county answered today's roll call, and from these it is hoped to obtain a jury.

During last winter's term of court, 100 Mingo veniremen were called before a jury was selected to try those expected to go on trial tomorrow on an indictment charging complicity in the death of Albert C. Phelps, one of the seven who died as a result of gunshot wounds suffered during the fight. At that time, the defendants were acquitted.

3 ALLEGED ARMY DESERTERS CAUGHT

Men Cornered by French Police After Running Gun Fight in Automobiles

(By The Associated Press.)

Troyes, France, Sept. 6.—Three men wearing khaki uniforms and alleged by the police to have admitted being deserters from the American forces at Coblenz, were arrested today by French gendarmes at Laignes. They are charged with highway robbery and burglary.

The men were cornered after a running fight in automobiles over a distance of 25 miles. The police assert that the automobile used by the men, which was abandoned after the gasoline supply became exhausted, was stolen from the American contingent at Coblenz.

The car of the bandits first made its appearance Monday evening at 5:30 o'clock in the village of Petit Saint-Georges. Here the occupants with drawn revolvers, entered the offices of a business firm, forced the cashier to hand over the contents of the safe, and sped away toward Paris.

Local gendarmes requested an automobile in which to give chase but the car of the bandits proved the faster of the two and outdistanced the police machine. The trail was caught up again this morning when the Troyes police gave chase. They fired at the bandits who replied with their army revolvers. The running fight continued for 20 minutes before the gunmen abandoned their automobile and took refuge in a small wood, where they surrounded.

The men arrested said they were Carroll Day, 27; Alva Good, 24, and Abe Abell, 20. An alleged civilian accomplice named Ernest Dumont, a Frenchman, also was taken into custody.

UNEMPLOYMENT TO BE INVESTIGATED

Department of Labor Gathers Data for Conference Late This Month

Washington, Sept. 6.—Data for use in connection with the unemployment conference called by Secretary Hoover at the request of President Harding was being gathered today from the bureau of statistics of the department of labor, which was requested especially to supply cost of living figures.

While representatives to the conference will be limited probably to 30 or less, it was learned today that the President will be furnished with lists of persons considerably in excess of that number who will measure up to his request for representatives of the "key industries" from different sections of the country.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has proposed 25 representatives of labor in the various crafts from all parts of the country, while the United States Chamber of Commerce has submitted five names. Other associations and organizations have submitted lists at the request of the President.

From these lists, it is understood, the president will make his selections, eliminating as far as practicable duplication of industries and sections. The date for the meeting has not as yet been set but it probably will be around September 15 or 20.

SOLE SURVIVOR OF FIVE AVIATORS FIGHTS DEATH

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 6.—Corporal Alexander C. Haxleton of Wilmington, Del., sole survivor of the crew of five army aviators who crashed in the wooded hills of Nichols county Saturday, today was reported by physicians at Montgomery as making a gallant fight to recover.

Both of his legs are broken, one hip is dislocated and there are grave internal injuries.

The bodies of other members of the crew of the bombing airplane which went into a nose dive during a violent electric storm while enroute from Charleston to Langley field, W. Va., are being held in Summerville, pending instructions from the chief of air service at Washington.

Irish Situation Reaches New Crisis as Sinn Fein Leader Un- bosoms Himself

Council to Meet

Premier Lloyd George and Colleagues Will Act on Problem
at Inverness Conference

(By The Associated Press.)

Dublin, Sept. 6.—On the eve of a meeting of the British cabinet at Inverness to take action on the Irish problem, Lannam DeValera, the Irish Republican leader, today quite unexpectedly issued a statement to the press, in which, after reiterating Ireland's earnest desire for peace, declared that peace could never be founded on the make-believe.

"Let us lay aside the camouflage and put away the hypocrisy," said Mr. DeValera. "If England is issuing an ultimatum, let it be an ultimatum."

War, not peace, would be the outcome of the imposition of England's proposals for force, according to Mr. DeValera, who went on to assert that England had no basis in right for a single demand she was making on Ireland and would not dare to make such demands on "a power even nearly as strong as herself."

It was announced earlier in the day by the Sinn Fein leaders that there was nothing to communicate; then suddenly came a call and a typewritten statement was given out. Though bitterness is to be observed in the pronouncement, it is noted that it does not amount to a rupture of the negotiations; nevertheless its issuance at this critical moment is believed here to add to the gravity of the situation.

A communication was received by wire today from Robert C. Barton, the Sinn Fein courier who carried the Dail Eireann's reply to Premier Lloyd George, and is still in Scotland forecasting the possible result of the cabinet meeting, and it is suggested that Mr. DeValera's statement was made in consequence of information contained in Mr. Barton's message.

The newspaper suggestion of the imposition by the premier of a time limit has been badly received. Arthur Griffith and others resent any attempt to force the peace. There is no sign, however, that the Sinn Fein leaders regard the position as critical; they talk as if they had months of argument before them and although there was no possibility of termination of the truce.

The British reply is expected to be delivered tomorrow night to Mr. Barton at Inverness, and in that event, it is likely to be made public before the end of the week.

A Critical Situation

London, Sept. 6.—Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, and other ministers are travelling 700 miles tonight to join Prime Minister Lloyd George and the rest of the cabinet. Viscount Fitzalan, the Irish viceroy, and General Sir Neville Macready, commander of the troops in Ireland, in what may prove a most critical council meeting concerning the fate of Ireland.

Never before have the ministers been called upon to take such a journey to attend a council under such unusual circumstances. Because of the presence in the neighborhood of Inverness in advance of the meeting of Viscount Fitzalan, Sir Omar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, and General Macready, there have been rumors of informal discussions during the journey that the time had arrived to put an end to the protracted negotiations. Nothing is positively known to this effect, however, but there is good ground to believe that many members of the cabinet favor placing a time limit on further discussions. It is likely that everything will depend upon the decision of the premier himself, and the general impression is that he strongly opposes any precipitate breaking of negotiations.

Whether Eamon De Valera's sudden decision today to unboom himself to the press in such frank fashion was due to the idea that he might influence opinion to prevent premature breaking off of the negotiations was the subject of speculation in London.

Short Time Limit

The Daily Mail political correspondent at Inverness learns from a person in close touch with Premier Lloyd George that the Sinn Fein leaders will be given a short time limit in which to say definitely whether they will enter a conference on the basis laid down in the government's offer.

"Alternatives to failure of the Sinn Fein to arrange an accommodation," says the correspondent, "are being considered in consultation with the Irish viceroy and General Macready."

The correspondent points out that the government would refer the question to parliament before re-introducing the policy of repression in Ireland and might submit the issue to the country, thus creating the possibility of a general election, but adds that the premier retains the sincere hope that the Sinn Fein will realize the dangers of further delay and the essential conditions of his offer.

GIANTS' HITTING

WINS TWO GAMES

From Strong Meadowbrooks on Labor Day—Win by Fighting to the Last Ditch

Hats off to Walsh's Giants! By their fighting spirit coupled with their recognized ability with the willow, which combination has pulled more than one game out of the fire during the season now drawing to a close, they took two games from the famed Meadowbrooks of New Jersey, at the Neahwa park grounds on Labor Day, the morning encounter, which went ten innings, by the score of 7 to 6, and the afternoon engagement, which afforded them the rather unusual amount of thrills and which after being won appeared to have gone to Davy Jones' locker but was literally pulled therefrom, also by the narrow margin of one score, 13 to 12. It was a great day for the Giants and incidentally for their supporters, who will never cease talking of their pluck and ability to fight to the last ditch.

Walsh tried out Edward Scanlon in the first game, and while the younger showed ability and gives promise of being a useful member of the team, he and in the fifth, after Mills had singled and Scanlon had hit the next batsman, "Big Ed" went into the box himself and anxiety on the part of the fans gave way to confidence, for the big fellow's ability and experience proved effective, four hits only being made off his delivery in the rest of the game. The visitors had three and were able to add one in the sixth, when Hein's single what could have been a double to right, but the ball became lost and when Farrell made a poor peg to Hermann at third to nab him there, Hein came across. Mills drew a pass in the seventh and was advanced to third by Kavanagh's single and was squeezed across, Estes being retired at first. Kavanagh getting second. He came in when Baird erred on Baxter's grounder.

Oneonta took two in the second. Byrnes singled and McGraw and Harlow followed. McGraw's running, Harlow's single, sending McGraw to third. Then Sinstack, who celebrated his return to the team after an injury, by timely hitting, rapped out a kinking triple, scoring both McGraw and Harlow. The act was duplicated in the fourth. Byrnes singled, Farrell sacrificed McGraw, who ran, to second, and Sinstack's double put him across. Later Sinstack scored on Scanlon's single.

With the score 6-4 against them, the Giants went to bat in the last half of the ninth undamined. Walsh complained not a bit when he was hit by a pitched ball. Baird singled, sending Walsh to second. Both advanced on a passed ball and after Steffen had fanned, Hatch sent one to the fence in left-center, scoring Walsh and Baird and tying the game. Hermann flew out to left. In the tenth, Baird singled, but not Farrell, who tried to steal and the decision being close but umpire VanVie was there and saw it better than the spectators. Harlow drew a pass. Sinstack hit a grounder to first, who felled Harlow out at second, but before second could or did at least return the ball to first to retire Sinstack he was safely there, meanwhile Farrell had crossed the plate with the winning run.

The Second Game.

The second game was a thriller, won and then lost and re-won again by a display of fighting qualities such as few teams have. It started off for a pitchers' battle but finally swung over into a swiftest of the purest sort.

Oneonta had three runs and the visitors one when the fifth opened. Baird, who had hit in the first, was out when he was hit by a pitched ball. Harlow drew a pass and then Schiltz, the pugnacious left fielder, met one squarely and sent it into the weeds in deep right in the shadow of the bill board, where it became lost. When Harlow finally dug it out both Huntley and Schiltz had crossed the plate, the latter getting credit for a homer. This tied the score.

Scanlon, smarting under the long-distance hit and first up for the Giants, drove one nearly as far, though the ball did not become lost. He made third easily on the drive. Captain Baird, not to be outdone, followed with a two-bagger that sailed, scoring Scanlon. This started a fusillade, Steffen following with a single and Hermann and Byrnes with two-baggers, which combined with an error at third netted the Giants five runs. This looked to be a safe margin for Scanlon was going strong and the team feeling in the same fashion behind him. Things are not always as safe as they look—especially in baseball.

Kurfuss replaced Huntley in the sixth but Oneonta added one on Baird's single and Steffen's two-bagger and another in the eighth on Sinstack's single, Scanlon's sacrifice and a single by Steffen. The boys from Meadowbrook, meantime, had begun to get friendly with Scanlon's offerings. An error, a putout and a single netted them one in the seventh and four singles added two more in the eighth.

Opening the ninth with the score 10 to 6 in favor of the locals, the local fans were confident. Harlow made a fine catch, after a hard run, of Steffen's fly, but Mills hit for a two-bagger and went to third when Byrnes erred, Kavanagh getting to first. Estes flew to Baird, who ran back of second to capture it. Heath, however, doubled scoring Mills and Kavanagh. Baxter singled sending Heath over and he advanced a base when Freeland, who had replaced Elmhorn behind the bat, singled. Kurfuss knocked one of Scanlon's offerings into a bunch of tall grass in right field but the grass hid it from Harlow's sight until Kurfuss had chased Baxter and Freeland across the plate. The visitors had added six runs.

The score stood 12 to 10 against them when Oneonta went to bat. Atter Hermann had been retired, Byrnes and Farrell singled and Harlow came to the front nobly with a hard drive to right for two bases, scoring Byrnes and Farrell. The din that followed caused several vicinity towns to phone in, inquiring what was the matter. The grounds were long enough to give him first. Scanlon was retired, third to first. Baird picked out Kavanagh at second as his target and that obliging gentleman first dropped the ball and then hesitated long enough, and it required but a moment, to permit the fleet-footed captain to reach first and the squaw y nimble Harlow to dent the rubber, with the winning run. The figures follow:

ALBANY VICTORIOUS

Win From Oneonta Giants 5 to 2—First Half of Game a Pitchers' Battle—Donovan, Relief Twirler for Albany, Allows No Hits in Three Innings He Occupied Mound.

The Albany Eastern league team came to the city yesterday and before a sprinkling of fans defeated the Oneonta Giants by a 5 to 2 score. The first half of the fracas was a twirlers' duel between Swartz and Kieb, with the former having the heavy-end of the advantage. When the visitors had finished their fifth time at bat just fifteen of them had faced Swartz and every one of them had hit the ball, but they were fielded out by the perfect support behind the new Oneonta moundman.

Oneonta had just three men at bat in each of the three first innings, but Baird opened the fourth by a double to center, scoring on Hermann's lucky hit to third, after two had been retired. Byrnes forced Hermann at second.

In the sixth the Albanians got their first run, which tied things up temporarily. Murphy was first up and he singled, the first one of the opposition to do anything but get out. He stole second and took third on Penoyer's bingle between third, and short into left. Kieb was granted a pass in a moment of over generosity on the part of Swartz. And there were none out! Ware fanned much to his displeasure. Groh tried to catch what he called Murphy on third. It looked as if it could not do anything even after that, did get the sacks full and none on the retired list, but things don't always come out just as we would like, for Dameron came across with a neat and timely single to left, scoring Murphy. Donovan put a fly into Steffen's hands, furling the inning.

When the home team came in they got another, putting them in the lead once more. After Baird had put a fly into deep right which Wade got under, Steffen singled across short into left, taking second when Murphy let the ball get past him. Hatch was granted a free trip to first. Hermann hit a hard one to short, scoring Steffen and putting Hatch on third. Byrnes was out, Kieb to Dameron, with Hermann getting second on the out. Farrell ought to have a hit, but Ware made a hard run, getting the base.

Donovan went in to bat for Kieb in the seventh and finished the box work for the Eastern leaguers, allowing nary a hit in the three innings he presided on the mound. The eighth was the winning inning. Ware drove a hot one over Swartz's head into center. Groh was out on a foul fly to Hermann. Dameron hit to leftman, where he was bound to go. Ware, but Farrell failed to cling to the sphere. Donovan doubled to right, scoring Ware and moving Dameron to third. Payne hit to Hermann, who fumbled, making a too late peg to first to catch Payne. Dameron scoring on the out, but Donovan getting third before the dust had cleared

AN EXCITING ADVENTURE OF THE UPPER AND UNDER WORLDS

WHAT is doubtless the best screen performance in which Eugene O'Brien has appeared is that of "The Last Door." "The Last Door" is a modern, quick story that abounds in action, suspense and mystery, to which is added a thrilling love theme that is novel in both its conception and its development.

I WAS A NERVOUS BANKRUPT

WEAK, WORN AND "ALL IN"

I was too weak to work; too nervous to think and my business was going to ruin.

Until I was a complete physical and mental wreck with financial ruin staring me in the face, I never realized that the system manufactured only so much nerve force every twenty-four hours, and that if through worry, overwork, excitement, grief, or constant nervous strain, or other excesses, you used up your nerve force faster than it was made, that in time you were bound to become a nervous bankrupt, just like a man who confoundly spends more money than he makes. In time, to become a financial bankrupt. I knew I was fast losing my old time strength and endurance and that I was getting extremely nervous, but I did not attach much importance to it until one day I found that I was suffering terrible tremors from an awful de-vitalizing weakness that got my nerves all on edge. The slightest thing completely upset me. I had a dull heavy aching pain in the lower back part of my head, and sometimes a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front and top of my head. I could not sleep at night. A continuous buzz of thoughts would chase one another through my brain. I would often find myself in a state of profuse perspiration, which was very uncomfortable. Sometimes I suffered from heart palpitations and indigestion. I would often wake up in the middle of the night with a horrible nightmare, and think I was doomed to my end. Finally my pains, nervousness, and extreme weakness became so alarming I was almost going to die, and I often thought of committing suicide.

The above is a true story, which a physician says is typical of thousands. It is alarming to think how very few people really have strong nerves nowadays, and how many hundreds of thousands suffer from exhaustion

THE REOPENED SCHOOLS.
The schools of Oneonta, and of the state generally, opened yesterday after ten weeks of summer holiday; and there is every reason to believe that everywhere, as is certainly the case
in this city, there is larger attendance than there was a year ago. The country over, there is growing appreciation of the advantages of a good education.

Parents generally are not satisfied to have their children stop in the grades, but instead wish them to have at least a high school diploma. This is shown by the steady increase in registration of advanced pupils, and though not all pupils will be able to complete the course, there are more and more every year who remain until graduation.

Not so many years ago, few pupils entered college after completing a high school course. Now they are many, so many in fact that a college or Normal course is generally expected as the finishing touch before a business or professional career is entered upon.

What was good enough
for father, father himself no longer thinks good enough for son or daughter; and he is willing to make almost any sacrifice for his child.
Also it is to be noted—and in fact anybody with open eyes can see for himself—that Shakespeare's line about the schoolboy "creeping like snail unwilling to school" is no longer truthful or applicable. Whoever saw the youngsters of yesterday, saw lads and ladies from grade one upward moving with brisk step and with faces which glowed with pleasure at the renewal of school work and associations. Surely there is a great change from the days when to most children school was prison and study
a task instead of a pleasure.

At least the world has gone far ahead since the days of the great dramatist and of Good Queen Bess.

WHEN VACATION ENDS.

The two summer months commonly given up to rest and recreation are at end, and those who have had the benefit of part or all of it have already returned to their fields of duty
or are in fact or thought turning faces homeward. It has been a pleasant season, this of the summer ending, of renewal of earlier ties, of rest in the old home, of lying at ease beside the summer brooks—and it is no wonder that to those who go, there is a feeling of regret, as there certainly is to those who remain. And in fact it has been said with much of truth in it, that the pang of parting is strongest with those who depart.

However, it has been a pleasant season, that has now a delightfully ending. It has brought rest and refreshing, days of delight and pleasant recollection; and as the last pages of the story of the summer of 1921 are turned and definitely inscribed—that have in them this for comfort—that they carry the records of many a joy, and that the turning leaves bring to mind that, as with no night, there could be no sunrise, so the vacation days to come, when the world circles the sun again in its established course
through the heavens.

GIRLS CAMP AT GOODYEAR.

Jolly Party with Miss Poston Got Pleasure and Pleasant Benefits.

The camping trip to Goodyear lake was a complete success and the girls who went are already planning for next year. We hope to have a larger cottage next time and more girls.
There was lots of hard work connected with the trip but the girls were good about helping. And how they did eat. One girl lost 1½ pounds but she could well afford the loss. All of the others gained, the largest gain being 3-4 pounds and the smallest 2-4 of a pound, said Miss Poston of the Family Social Work association
yesterday.

"One thing was noticeable in the group. None of the girls knew how to enjoy the outdoors and they needed such outings as this to teach them
the pleasure and the profit in moral and physical well being from getting acquainted with the out-of-doors. They were becoming more and more interested in the whole thing. They were bathing suits and one remarked, as they were preparing to come home,
"How are we ever going to wear
dresses again? Although the girls say Mr. Elmore's big car coming for them they had to be called in to prepare to go home."

"The cost of the camping trip to
the Family Social Work association
was very small and the secretary, for one, believes there could be no better way to spend the money. Those of the girls who could afford it paid for their own expenses for the week, but those who for one reason and another could not well do so, had the expenses paid for them out of a special fund raised for the purpose.
The association takes this means of thanking those who contributed to the fund and made the outing possible."

A SUIII Bigger Squash.

A correspondent, writing from Bloomville, calls attention to the item in The Star of Monday relative to the 49-inch squash raised by Thomas Bates of the Plains, and says that West Harpersfield easily can beat it.
Mrs. E. Murdoch, the correspondent, says, "has raised a squash this year which measures 55 inches one way and 51 the other, and it is now in her front yard on exhibition. It was raised from common stock, the seeds being those which she saved from her own crop last year."

RECENT NEWSPAPER NOTES

De Valera's Reply.

In substance De Valera's reply to Premier Lloyd George is along the lines of the Daily Eireanna's previous rejection of the British proposals. In the circumstances nothing else was to be expected. The terms of the British offer, so far as it goes, are fairly clear and precise. In protesting that it does not concede to Ireland a dominion status, De Valera seems to imply that Ireland might be satisfied with that status. That is a question, however, to be settled only after fuller discussion of the conditions of self-government to be extended to Ireland.

What really matters in De Valera's reply is that it keeps the door open for further negotiations. —[New York

A Letter with a Meaning.

Not enough of importance has been ascribed to the fact, mentioned by Mr. Marconi, that "V" is the letter which Martians are telegraphing or radiating or otherwise to us in frequent repetition and at regular intervals. Their choice of this signal hardly can be accidental, and it unsafe to assume that what for us is "V" is or may be, for the Martians, something quite different.

The "V" therefore, probably has significance in a terrestrial rather than in a Martian sense, and the Martians know what it means to us. It stands for "Vanguard," among other things, and may be the beginning of a warning against prohibition—or of an exhortation to keep it up. The letter is the initial of "votes" and "vol-untarism," and may have some precatorial bearing on our election campaign.

That the message is addressed to us is beyond question. Are we not the most important and interesting of nations and peoples—just the ones with whom the inhabitants of a sister planet would want to get into communication first? —[New York Times.]

What the Pope Said.

The pope said that five plagues were now afflicting humanity. The first was the unprecedented challenge to authority. The second, an equally unprecedented hatred between man and
man. The third was the abnormal aversion to work. The fourth, the excessive thirst for pleasure as the great aim of life. And the fifth a gross materialism which denied the reality of the spiritual in human life.

The five plagues made by the pope are closely related and constitute one of the great problems which confront the world. Nothing more worthy of regard than the obligation expressed in the sentence: "The duty of every one consists in respecting the rights of others." —[Ulster Press.]

Nobody Can Know Everything.

There is no need to be discouraged, either as regards our schools or as regards our youth, merely because most of the schools as yet do not have a course in current events or because our youth study what they are told to study, and hence have little to say, for instance, about the Knox resolution,
and that little absurdly wrong.

That the schools should give more attention to the teaching and the learning of contemporary history
may be—probably is—true. To do it, however, would be at a cost as regards the teaching and learning of other things in the students' scanty time—a cost that deserves more consideration than these investigators seem to have given it. —[New York Times.]

Quick Results.

"Did that ad. you put in the paper yesterday get quick results?"

"I should say it did. I advertised for a night watchman and last night our place was robbed." —[Life.]

A Film Comedian.

"My star can wiggle his ears."

"Well?"

gencer.]

PROF. WOOD BACK TO THE SOIL

Graduate of Oneonta Normal Succesfully Conducts Farm at Indian Fields, Restaurant in Albany.

Many in this city will recall Clarence A. Wood, who graduated from the Oneonta State Normal school, and after several years of successful work as teacher was later admitted to the practice of law, graduating from Syracuse university.
All this while he interested in knowing that the Sunday issue of the Knickerbocker Press of Albany devotes half a page with illustrations to Mr. Wood and his family, who renouncing the educational field, have successfully staged a working agricultural drama which very properly may be called
"Back to the Farm."

Mr. Wood is proprietor of the Mon-can restaurant on North Pearl street
in Albany and of the Monican farm
at Indian Fields, seventeen miles out of the city. A native of Long Island, Mr. Wood worked as a chore boy on an island farm, but always had an ambition to have a place of his own.
At seventeen he taught at Queque and then entered the Oneonta Normal, afterwards teaching at the Oneonta academy. Later he studied in the Albany State college from which and the University of Maine, Chicago and Buffalo and from Syracuse, he has degrees. Aspiring to a home in the country, he bought a little place nine miles from Ithaca, afterwards disposing of it and buying his present
farm of 150 acres at Indian Fields, where the family took boarders and popularized the place among vacation-ists. The farm is conducted on scientific principles, and to dispose of the fresh products of the soil the restaurant in Albany was started, and has proved entirely successful.

Mrs. Wood, who as a side line is an expert china decorator, runs the household at the farm. There are also four daughters, one of whom, Stella, assists her father in managing the restaurant. Nina teaches art in the Hudson High school and works on the farm in the summer, and Cora and Anna attend Albany High school and work on the farm. From the beginning at Indian Fields Mr. Wood has been successful, and his story of his experiences is interesting as showing how profitable farm life may be come when scientific knowledge is joined to love of the land and a determination to win out in an occupation old as Adam and which still holds out the best of opportunities for those who can see and embrace them.

BUSINESS OF CITY COUNCIL

Much Routine Business Transacted
Last Evening—By Carlo Spicola Asks Permit to Erect Brick Dock on Former Goldsmith Property.
Main Street—Sidewalk Assessments Levied.

At a meeting of the city council last evening, the Mayor and Aldermen Lauren, Coy, Clark and Tarnett were present. Bills for current expenses amounting to $255.39 were ordered paid.

Carlo Spicola, owner of the property at 112 Main street on which the Goldsmith store formerly was located,
appeared before the council and through Architect Orlo Epps submitted plans for a new building on his property. The building, which it is proposed to erect, will have a front of 22 feet on Main street and will be 53 feet deep. It will be of brick, one story high on Main street and with walls adequate for other stories above if desired, and with basement and sub-basement under all. This building will be constructed on the stone walls of the former Goldsmith structure. West of it on the same lot Mr. Spicola proposes to erect a building 50 feet square, with basement,
to be used for a small shop or store.
In the main building there will be a fruit store on Main street, an apartment in the basement and a garage in the sub-basement, all of which are above ground in the rear. The board authorized construction of the building, subject to the approval of the fire chief of the city.

On application of the Board of Public Works it was voted to transfer the sum of $650.75 paid to the city for work done by the board from the general fund to the board, and also the sum of $2,260 paid for oiling.

The cost of the various sidewalks already completed this year was submitted to the board and on motion it was voted that the assessments be levied and that a hearing be had at the next regular meeting of the council.

The sum of $348.95 received by the city for show rentals, hay and from other sources, and the further sum of $393.58 expended for the grading of Brown park, were ordered credited to the Park commission.

The proposed list of polling places
was submitted to the board and approved. They are the same as last year.

The sum of $1,192, interest on paying and sewer bonds on Elm and Maple streets, which was not included in the tax levy last winter, since the amount of the bonds was not then determined, was ordered paid from the general fund. Of this sum about $400 has been received by the city in the form of accrued interest at date of purchase.

A letter from Dr. Marx, expressing the thanks of the Athletic association for the expenses of the New York State conference of Mayors was read and ordered paid, after which the council adjourned.

The Folly of Cheating Nature

Many people get the idea that they can keep their nerves on edge and their digestion upset year after year, and "get away with it." They sleep only half as much as they should—and never get properly and thoroughly rested.

If you tire out easily, if you are getting pale and anemic, if your food doesn't digest as it should, would it not be well to stop and consider whether coffee or tea is having its effect on you?

The caffeine and their found in coffee and tea are drugs, as any doctor can tell you. Is it any wonder that the steady use of these drugs sometimes causes serious damage?

If you really want to be fair with yourself, and give yourself the opportunity you deserve in order to do your best work, make up your mind to quit coffee and tea for awhile—and drink delicious, appetizing Postum instead.

Postum permits sound, refreshing sleep which builds strength, energy and endurance.

Order Postum from your Grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in time) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Largest Registration of Any Opening Day in Oneonta History.

The Oneonta public schools, High school and grades, opened yesterday in all departments with a larger attendance than has on any previous opening day in the history of the city. High school there were 437 pupils enrolled, 475 in the grades on Academy street, 214 in the Chestnut street school, 111 at East End and 269 at River street—a total of 1,506. It is known that there are still many to register in the various schools, but the above figures for a first day are the best ever given out.

The new teachers in the city schools this year include Miss Daisy Servin of Groton, teacher of biology, Miss Mina R. Davies of Ithaca, domestic science; Miss Jane Merriam, last year of Norwich, lady superintendent of physical training; Miss Dorothy Shuffet of Chateaugay, instructor in music; Miss Anna Downey grade teacher in River street school, and Miss Myra Hall of Milford at Chestnut street. The Central school, which is conducted by Normal instructors, but is a part of the public schools, also opened yesterday. There was a good attendance but not so large as otherwise would have been, owing to the fact that the opening was not understood in every instance.

MEETS ACCIDENTAL DEATH

LYNN SEEGER OF THIS CITY
KILLED WHEN CAR GOES OVER BANK.

Accident Near Bainbridge Monday Evening—Other Members of Party, All from This City, Escape Serious Injuries—Funeral of Seeger Today.

Lynn Seeger of 36 Center street, employed at Dibble's garage on Dietz street, was accidentally killed Monday evening about 8 o'clock while motorizing with four companions, all of this city, between Sidney and Bainbridge. The other occupants of the car escaped without serious injuries. Stanley Whitmore of this city sustained a dislocated shoulder. The fatal injury was sustained when the motor car which he was driving broke through the guard rail on the westerly approach to the concrete bridge over the D. & H. tracks about midway between Sidney and Bainbridge. It is believed that there was some defect in the steering apparatus.

Steering Gear Breaks.

They left Oneonta at an early hour and up until the time of the fatal accident the party had no trouble with the car. They had made the approach from the east side of the viaduct, had crossed the top and were descending on the other when the car left the road and crashed into the railing which guarded the approach.

This did not stop the moving vehicle and it went on down the bank. It did not turn over. The car was in a critical angle when found and it is nothing short of a miracle that the car did not turn over and the occupants be pinned beneath.

Autoists Assisted Injured.

"It was hardly a minute before people from a passing car came to the rescue and aided us in every possible way," said Mildred Bennett, who was a member of the auto party, yesterday to a representative of this paper.

"They were just as nice as anyone could have been and they did everything to help those who were injured," she added.

Cars passing in the direction of Oneonta brought Stanley Whitmore, whose shoulder was dislocated when he was thrown out of the car, to the city. The young ladies sustained only bruises and yesterday were able to be around.

Seeger Wedged to Seat.

As the car left the road and struck the railing a plank from the fence glanced from the radiator of the car and crashed through the windshield, striking Seeger in the chest, crushing him to death before the car had stopped. When assistance arrived he was removed from the car but was found to be dead.

Members of the state constabulary, who were near the scene of the accident, arrived and took charge of the body and the car. After they had examined the car carefully they found that the steering gear had broken causing the car to leave the road.

Seeger had been employed for the last six years at Dibble's garage and was known throughout the city by many. He was always faithful to his mother and was ready to help anyone who asked a favor. He was born in Milford Center on February 20, 1897, where he had always lived until he came to this city to work. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Fina Seeger, of 36 Center street, and a sister, Mrs. B. L. Squire of Milford Center.

He served for several months in the army but was never called "across." He was a member of the American legion and the Loyal Order of the Moose.

Funeral Today.

The funeral services will be held at the house, 36 Center street, at 11 o'clock this morning with Rev. E. J. Farley, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. The body will be taken to Milford Center, where the church services will be held in the Milford Center Baptist church at 12 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Cooper of the Sloansville Baptist church will have charge of the services at the church and the grave.

WARNING TO HOUSEHOLDERS.

Many Desperate Characters Are Roaming About and Care is Needed. Sheriff F. S. Williams of this county has recently returned from a trip through the northern part of the state, during which he visited several county fairs. He noted that an unusually large number of takers and other hangers-on at country fairs were present and that the places where the fairs were held had more than the usual number of suspicious characters about. Also the police and other authorities reported more than the usual number of crimes in the way of robberies occurring.

Sheriff Williams is of the opinion Otsego county will not escape visits from these offenders during the weeks that fairs are in progress and he wishes The Star to warn householders to be careful to leave their homes securely locked and no money or valuables, which thieves might carry away where they can be found. He thinks it would be wise also for those motorizing about from town to town to use care and not have in their possession money to any extent.

He reports that at one of the places visited, Lowville, bold thieves attempted to hold up the occupants of the ticket office and to get away with the contents but were foiled in the attempt. The crime wave he suggests is not confined to the big cities but is prevalent in most sections up state.

WRECK NEAR BINGHAMTON

Freight Train Derails 13 Cars While Pulling Into Siding to Let Passenger Train No. 302 Pass — No One Injured—Passenger Service Delayed.

Extra $27, a north-bound freight train, while drawing into Swift's siding, east of Port Crane, to let train 302, which leaves Oneonta at 10:50 a. m. for Binghamton, pass, derailed 13 freight cars, blocking the main track. The accident happened at 12:35 p. m. and was caused by one of the freight cars hitting the spur on the point and derailling 12 of the cars behind it.

The derailed cars blocked both the main and siding tracks, so that no other trains could get through. At this point there is only one main track and a siding has been built to accommodate freight trains of medium length.

A relief train was sent to the scene of the accident from Binghamton and the passengers from train 302 were transferred to the relief train and taken to Binghamton. This necessitated the passengers walking about an eighth of a mile, from one train to the other. These passengers arrived in Binghamton about 50 minutes late.

Train 309 leaving Binghamton at 1:25 was obliged to travel over the Erie tracks to Jefferson Junction and then over the Pennsylvania division to Nineveh, where they then proceeded on the Susquehanna division tracks through to Albany. This train, due to arrive in Oneonta at 3:45 p. m., was two hours and thirty minutes late into Oneonta.

The main track was cleared at 2:50 p. m. by men brought from the car department from Binghamton, while the siding was not cleared until 7:40 o'clock last evening by the Oneonta wrecking crew, which made a fast trip to the scene of the accident.

The train had 56 cars and Conductor P. J. Neelan and Engineer O'Neil were in charge. No one was injured.

ELKS AT STAMFORD TONIGHT

Will Initiate Large Class of Newcomers This Evening—Antlered Head Expected to Make Occasion Notable One.

This evening members of Oneonta lodge of Elks in large numbers are to invade the village of Stamford and from the time of their arrival until they depart they expect to give the denizens of that neck 'o woods evidences that the organization does things that are worth while and in a creditable manner. Ere the evening passes Stamfordites will realize that Oneonta Elks are a live bunch and that there are no idle moments with them.

At 8:30 a ball game is staged to be played on the Athletic field at which the Delaware county members will contest with the members from Otsego. Both teams have good players and some coaches who know how the game should be played. In addition there will be several hundred spectators who will tell the players how to play the game, with complete indifference to their capabilities in that respect. In fact it is not unlikely that some of the noisiest ones will know least about the game. There will be fun by the bushel for those who witness the encounter.

At 7 p. m. there will be a grand street parade of Oneonta lodge and some 60 or 70 novices who are later to be initiated into the mysteries of the fraternity. Keeton's band will head the procession and later will give a concert on the lawn of Churchill hall.

At 8 p. m. the initiatory exercises will be held at the Stamford Opera house with part 2 given in full form. Later a banquet will be held at Churchill hall at which able speakers are to be heard, including Congressman Clark Wm. E. Drislane and Hon. Wm. T. Byrne of Albany. Dr. George J. Dunn is to be toastmaster and during the evening a loving cup which the Stamford team won in the recent membership contest will be presented by Howard W. Plummer of this city. More than 300 tickets have already been sold for the banquet. Those who have delayed securing tickets should make early reservations with Fred N. Van Vliet chairman of the committee.

OTSEGO COUNTY FAIR

Bigger and Better Than Ever Before in the History of the Society—Many Exhibits of Real Value to Everyone—Horse Races and Balloon Ascension Features.

Cooperstown, Sept. 6. — On the eve of the official opening of the Otsego County fair, everything points to this year being the greatest year ever held by this society.

The exhibition starts tomorrow with everything in readiness for the opening day and will continue Thursday and Friday of this week. There is the largest exhibition of pure bred cattle that has ever been brought here for exhibition. The Floral Hall exhibits, consisting of fruits, vegetables and flowers, are also unusually large, due probably to the earliness of the season.

Today was "Entry Day" and many were bringing their exhibits and placing everything in readiness for the opening tomorrow. That display in every department will be larger and better than ever before is the claim of those in charge.

The Junior Extension Project department is attracting much attention. This work is in a separate building with the other children's work and will be the center for the kiddies while at the fair.

There will be moving pictures in the Domestic hall continuously, giving instruction along educational lines of farm work, house work, and many other interesting subjects.

Starting tomorrow, there will be horse racing every day of the fair, weather permitting, in which some of the fastest horses of the state will race. There are 25 horses already at the stables and they will make a good showing. There will be only two races tomorrow, while on Thursday and Friday there will be three each day. This year the purses are more liberal than ever before and there is keen interest shown in the races.

Then the old-fashioned balloon ascension is to take place and it will be real, according to those who have witnessed this man make the triple parachute drop.

VALUABLE FARM SOLD.

Fred Whipple of Oneonta Buys One of Delaware County's Finest Farms.

The Clark D. Whitney farm, one of Delaware county's finest, was recently sold to Fred Whipple of Oneonta. The farm, situated about a mile from East Meredith, is equipped with excellent buildings; the house contains all improvements and the barns are equipped with many modern labor-saving devices. The sale includes 20 valuable Holstein cows and all of the farm tools and machinery. Mr. Whipple will have immediate possession. The sale was made through the Campbell Brothers' agency of this city.

Campbell Brothers also brought about recently the sale by R. W. Groves of Conrath, Wis., to S. S. Hall of a half interest in the valuable herd of 24 Guernsey cattle and one-half of all the crops produced on the farm, south of the city. Mr. Hall is for the present operating the farm, which is owned by Mr. Groves. The latter was in Oneonta recently with his son, when they brought on the Guernsey herd from Wisconsin. They returned to the west, but expect eventually to come here and operate the place.

DEATH OF SAMUEL MAWHINNEY.

At a Ripe Old Age a Life of Usefulness and Honor Passes.

North Kortright, Sept. 6. — Funeral services for the late Samuel Mawhinney, whose death early Friday morning as was printed in Monday's Star occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Moore of Southampton, Pa., were held Monday afternoon at the home of his son, James S. Mawhinney, Rev. R. R. Irwin officiating. Mr. Irwin spoke of the life of faith and service that characterized the long life of the deceased, whose memory is revered by a host of friends and relatives. He was a man of strong religious convictions and strict integrity, combined with a genial, friendly manner that won the esteem of all who knew him. For many years he was an elder in various churches in this county, in Washington county, in Holston and in Stamford. His daughter accompanied the body here and remains for a visit with her brother. Interment was made at Hobart, where he had resided many years.

Mr. Mawhinney was twice married. His first wife, the mother of his children, was a sister of Rev. James S. Mawhinney, deceased. His second wife was Miss Ellen Hills of Hobart, whose tragic death on the railroad tracks at Oneonta is remembered by many. His third wife, whose maiden name was Tyler, died several years since.

Confused on Directions.

One afternoon last week a stranger came hurrying up the state road inquiring if anyone had seen a Studebaker car pass, in which were a woman and two children. He said that a mile or two from Davenport he left the car to go for gasoline and when he returned to the spot the whole outfit had disappeared. He seemed nearly distracted, but at N. P. Nichols' store he learned that he had been going away from instead of toward his car. He hired someone to take him back and the family were happily reunited.

MILLIONS SPENT IN VIENNA

Money So Plentiful in Austria Americans Are Outbid for Objects d'Art.

Vienna, Austria.—The astounding amount of ready money circulating in Austria was illustrated by the recently concluded sale of the rare furnishings of the Klessheim palace, one of the residences of the Archduke Ludwig Victor. It netted many million crowns and the newspapers say the purchasers were virtually all newly rich Viennese. Many professional collectors and buyers from France, Great Britain and the United States came here for the sale but declared they could not compete with native bidders, who ran prices up into millions as nonchalantly as if bidding in hundreds. Dollars, pounds and francs, they said, were out of the running. Several rare Gobelin brought from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 crowns each.

The Vienna Derby just run was another illustration of the money plenty. About 30,000 persons attended, and the receipts of the betting machines alone was 4,500,000 crowns.

Would Not Be Satisfied.

Tommy had grown very tired of kissing all his relatives every night and morning. One night his mother said to him: "Won't you come and kiss Aunt Anne?" "It's no good, mummy," he answered. "She won't stay kissed."

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement!

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, makes the following announcement: "We are making another reduction in the prices of Ford cars and the Ford truck, effective today. The new prices average $70.00 under former prices, and are the lowest at which Ford cars and trucks have ever been sold."

	New price F. O. B. Detroit	Old price F. O. B. Detroit	Amount of Reduction	New price F. O. B. Oneonta
Chassis	$295.00	$345.00	$50.00	$336.99
Runabout, plain	325.00	370.00	45.00	373.61
Touring car, plain	355.00	415.00	60.00	404.85
Truck	445.00	495.00	50.00	490.70
Coupe	595.00	695.00	100.00	654.75
Sedan	660.00	760.00	100.00	722.43

"This is the third price cut during the past twelve months. On September 22, 1920, the price of the Ford touring car was reduced from $575.00 to $440.00; June 7th to $415.00, and now to $355, making total reductions in this type of $220.00, or 38 per cent. The same proportionate reductions have been made in all other types. One year ago the price of the Ford sedan was $975, today it lists at $660.00 with the same equipment."

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products in order that we may give them to the public at the lowest possible price, and by doing that, we feel that we are doing the one big thing that will help this country into more prosperous times. People are interested in prices, and are buying when prices are right."

"The production of Ford cars and trucks for August again broke all previous high records with the total reaching 117,696. This is the fourth consecutive month in which our output has gone over the hundred thousand mark; the total for the four months being 463,074, which has gone a long way in making possible the present reductions. June this year with an output of 117,247, was the previous record month."

"One noteworthy feature of our sales is the increased demand for Ford trucks and cars for salesmen. This class of commercial business has been gradually increasing the past sixty days and we interpret it as a very good sign of improvement in general business."

"No reduction has been made in the price of the Fordson tractor, and none is contemplated."

Go over these new prices. See how little it costs you to become the owner of a Ford car or a Ford truck. Can you really afford to do without one any longer?

Let us tell you more about it, and advise you regarding the delivery of the particular type of car in which you are interested.
